

Walter Scott's advice to his Son Charles. —"I cannot too strongly impress upon your mind, that labor is the condition which God has imposed on us in every station in life. — There is nothing worth having that can be had without it, from the bread that the peasant wins with the sweat of his brow, to the sports by which the rich man must get rid of his ennui. The only difference between them is, that the poor man labors to get a dinner to his appetite, the rich man to get an appetite to his dinner. As for knowledge, it can no more be planted in the human mind, without labor, than a field of wheat can be produced without the precious use of the plough. There is, indeed, this difference, that chance or circumstances may so cause it, that another shall reap what the farmer sows; but no man can be deprived, whether by accident or misfortune, of the fruits of his own studies; and the liberal and extended acquisitions of knowledge which he makes are all for his own use. Labor, my dear boy, therefore, and improve the time. In youth our steps are light, and our minds are ductile, and knowledge is easily laid up. But, if we neglect our spring, our summers will be useless and contemptible, our harvest will be chaff, and the winter of old age unrespected and desolate."

Again: "Read, my dear Charles, read, and read that which is useful. Man differs from birds and beasts, only because he has the means of availing himself of the knowledge acquired by his predecessors. The swallow builds the same nest which its father and mother built, and the sparrow does not improve by the experience of its parents. The son of the learned pig, if it had one, would be a mere brute, only fit to make bacon of. It is not so with the human race. Our ancestors lodged in caves and wigwags, where we construct palaces for the rich and comfortable dwellings for the poor; and why is this, but because our eye is enabled to look upon the past, to improve upon our ancestors' improvements, and to avoid their errors?— This can only be done by studying history, and comparing it with passing events."

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:
THE undersigned hopes that all persons indebted to the office of the Salt River Journal, for SUBSCRIPTION, ADVERTISING, or JOB WORK, will speedily pay up their accounts. The amounts due are scattered over a number of counties, and the cost of collection, if he is compelled to call upon each individual, would in many cases, exceed the sums collected. Those indebted to the office can remit to us, through the Postmasters, and thus save us both trouble and expense, and at the same time do us a great favor. We are in want of money, and we must have it, and it must come from those for whom we have been laboring for the last two years.

AMERICAN LADIES' NATIONAL MAGAZINE.
GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK FOR 1842.
The most splendid and valuable Magazine ever published.

THE only Magazine devoted to Ladies, and conducted by members of their own sex. Composed entirely of original articles, by the most eminent writers of the age, and embellished with a large number and greater variety of costly, elegant, and attractive Pictorial illustrations, than any similar publication. Edited by—

Mrs. Sarah J. Hale, Morton M. Michael,
Mrs. L. H. Sigourney, L. A. Godoy,
Contributors to each number.
Miss C. M. Sedgwick, N. P. Willis,
Miss E. Leslie, Mrs. C. Lee Hants,
Mrs. E. C. Embury, T. S. Arthur,
Theodore S. Fay, Mrs. E. F. Elliot.

In announcing to his numerous patrons and the public at large his arrangements for the year 1842, the proprietor of Godey's Lady's Book takes occasion to acknowledge the unparalleled and triumphant success of his Magazine, which has now reached the extraordinary number of 40,000 Copies Monthly, being a larger edition than has ever been printed of any other work, of any description, in America. This success he is aware has been attended by the vast superiority which the Lady's Book has always maintained over the various contemporary magazines which have attempted to rival its merits, a superiority which is still determined to preserve, by keeping it, in all its departments, Literary, Intellectual and Moral, as well as Pictorial, Emblematic, Artistic and Mechanical.

That this is no idle boast, he appeals to the experience of the past twelve years, in all which time he has made no promise to the public which he has not fully performed, nor undertaken any thing which means did not enable him to accomplish to the utmost.

Entering as he is about to do, on the 24th volume of the Lady's Book with increased energy and accumulated resources: with an ample knowledge of the business in which he is engaged, acquired by long years of unremitting application, with a subscription list unparalleled in the annals of literature; with numerous facilities not possessed by any other publisher; with well designed and wide extended arrangements; and above all, with a steadfast purpose of unflinching the lofty elevation his work has reached, the proprietor has not hesitated to incur expenses which under other circumstances might well prove startling; but by means of which he will be enabled to make the Lady's Book the richest, the rarest, the most attractive, and the most valuable periodical, intrinsically and extrinsically, ever offered to the public.

LITERARY DEPARTMENT.

Mrs S. J. Hale, Mrs L. H. Sigourney, Miss E. Leslie, Miss C. M. Sedgwick, Mrs Emma C. Embury, Mrs F. S. Osgood, Mrs A. M. F. Annan, Mrs E. F. Elliot, Miss Dupuy, Mrs Volney E. Howard, Mrs E. Allen, Mrs S. F. Farley, Mrs H. Beecher Stowe, Mrs Seba Smith, Mrs J. Thayer, Mrs C. Lee Hants, Mrs E. C. Stedman, Miss Meeta M. Duncann, Mrs C. H. W. Eliot, Mrs M. St. Leon Loud, Miss M. B. Snow, Kate Franklin.

He will be enabled to furnish occasional articles from Maria Edgeworth, May Russell Mitford Mrs Cornwell Baron Wilson, Mrs S. C. Hall, Mrs Holland, Mary Howitt, and other English lady writers of distinction, some of whom have already published in the Lady's Book the first original contributions they have ever made to American Literature.

Nor has he omitted to procure the services of eminent writers of the opposite sex. Aware of the universal and well-deserved popularity of N. P. Willis, Esq., and confident that the productions of his graceful and eloquent pen will be highly acceptable to the readers of the Lady's Book, the proprietor has entered in an arrangement by which he will be able to give in each number of the work, an exclusive article from that gentleman; and he has also retained all the contributors whose writings have heretofore given such general satisfaction, including W. G. Simms, Esq., Professor Ingraham, Professor Dimity, Professor Frost, Professor Walter, Park Benjamin, Esq., R. S. Mackenzie, L. D. T. S. Arthur Esq., H. W. Herbert, Joseph C. Neal, Hon. Robert T. Conrad, Dr. J. K. Mitchell, Morris P. Earle, M. D., N. C. Brooks, A. M. E. Holden, A. M. Wain, L. F. Tassilo, Rufus Dawes, E. D. Squier J. M. Lellan, Jr. James Aldrich.

With such aid, it is not too much to say, that the Literary Department of the Lady's Book will surpass any thing that has ever been or can be attempted.

ORIGINAL DEPARTMENT.

It is a source of no little pride to the proprietor of the Lady's Book, that he first introduced into this country the plan of furnishing, along with a monthly periodical of elegant literature, embellishments of an attractive and costly character. The first engraving accompanying such a work were given by him; the first colored plates of fashions were given by him; the first music was given by him. These are things to which he would not refer, if some of those who have essayed to follow in his footsteps, not content with imitating all he designs, even the form of his book, the size of his type, and the colour of his cover, had not foolishly put forward claims to originality, and attempted to do what they had borrowed from his example. But what he has done heretofore in the way of embellishment to his book, though it far exceeded any cannot compare with what he copy his movements, and his arrangement for this department of his work have been projected on the most liberal scale of expenditure, involving such an extent of outlay as has never before been dreamed of in any periodical, European or American. As an evidence of his intentions, he now states that each number of the Lady's Book for the ensuing year, will contain, at least,

Three Splendid Engravings: embracing in the series every possible variety of subject, Historical, Landscape, Picturesque, Portraiture, Imaginative, Emblematic, and executed in every possible variety of the art; Mezzotint, Line and Mezzotint, Stipple, Medallion, and that most chaste and expressive manner, the Line and Dot combined, which has given such world-wide celebrity to the works of modern artists.

The American Guide Plates of Fashions, coloured, will be given every month.

In order to give the greatest attractiveness to the subjects of his embellishments, the proprietor has given orders to various American Printers, of established reputation, who are now engaged in preparing expressly for the Lady's Book, numerous Original Pictures, on National and Historical events, some of which are nearly completed, and will soon be in the hands of the engraver. Among the printers thus engaged, he may enumerate

J. G. Chapman. Painter of the National Picture of the Baptism of Pocahontas.
P. F. Rothermel, J. P. Frankenstein,
S. S. Osgood, of Bos. I. Williams, &c. &c.

He has also established a correspondence in London, through which he will receive early proof impressions of the finest prints executed in that metropolis, and will thus be constantly supplied with an immense variety, from which to make suitable selections. In addition to this, he will receive the only copies of the celebrated prize Engravings of the Edinburgh Apollo Gallery, sent to this country; one of which, the Examination of Senkspere before Sir Thomas Lacy, he has already given to his patrons, and another of which, The Stray Children, he has now in preparation, as well as a series of Pictorial Illustrations of Shakespeare.

Determined to satisfy every variety of taste, the proprietor has also made arrangements for a series of the most superb Mezzotints ever executed in this country, several of which are already engraved, and will be given to subscribers as soon as a sufficient number of impressions can be taken to supply his immense edition. Besides the service of H. S. SADD, of New York, who has now in hand a number of plates, the proprietor has secured the invaluable aid of Mr. Humphreys, of London, who is universally conceded to stand in the foremost rank of English Engravers, and whose splendid efforts in Mezzotint have commanded the admiration of the most distinguished amateurs and critics. This eminent artist is now engaged in preparing, expressly for the Lady's Book, a number of Mezzotint Pictures, which the proprietor pledges himself will be of an unsurpassed excellence; and of the most interesting and attractive subjects. To guard against all possibility of difficulty hereafter, he has likewise ordered from England a complete Mezzotint Establishment, and immediately on its arrival, Mr. Wm. E. Tucker, of this city, will commence operations in that department of art.

In order to procure the various embellishments in season, the proprietor has made permanent arrangements with the following eminent engravers, all of whom are now engaged in executing steel plates for the Lady's Book.
